

A LITTLE TRIP TO THE EXTRAORDINARY

It was all so lush! In the emerald sunlight, old growth snuggled with moss and fern, and dripped to the rain forest dance floor. We scurried along softened paths, spied upon noble Roosevelt Elk, and hurdled over rushing river streams. And we continued our dance to the sandy shore of the Pacific, resting our toes within a cool tide pool, next to a starfish.